Your front end is too minimal.
(-2)
- Back-end unit tests (dependencies to UI, DB, or other classes should be stubbed/mocked out) (3/3)

- At least one integration test per detailed story (2/2)

Design:                                                                                          (9/9)
- Good programming practices (2/2)

Use proper naming convention for ALL classes, methods and files
- Proper design patterns (3/3)

- Architecture sketch showing high-level components/services and the important relationships between them plus some important classes within components. (4/4)

Planning:                                                                                        (3/5)
- Team's communication and members' contributions (2/3)

You should provide actual communication log otherwise, we cannot verify if you are really communicating with each other or not. Your document should also say who is doing what. There should be a proper explanation If somebody fails to do what he was assigned to so. If you are using any messaging tool, do not forget to share the link. (-1)

- Following the plan (1/2)
Some of your stories are not implemented. You should explain why you could not make it and then move those to the next iteration. (-1)

Total                                                                                            (21/25)
